It is doing pretty well to have one good idea in each advertisement. The almanac tells us that there are 365 days in the car, and the most scientific advertiser ssues his store news almost every morning or evening. CIVIL SERVICE POSITIONS.

Official Declaration as to All of Them to Be Issued.

Considerable uncertainty as to the status of positions in the civil service still exists, even among persons in office. Whether a given place is under civil service rules or belongs to the excepted list iz often a very nice question. Even the men who ordinarily determine such a matter sometimes disagree, and then it is necessary to refer the matter to some law officer, usually the Attorney General. There are a number of decisions from him on questions of this kind.
